Option 1: Replace corps leaders with best from pool: 21 Points

G Schmidt, Rudolf	6 + 7	4-5-7-7	6-6-1-1	43 - 5
G Ruoff, Richard	5 + 6	5-5-6-7	4-6-1-1	35 - 7

Option 2: Replace corps leaders with corps leaders with 9 political: 15 Points

GO Model, Walter	1 + 7	9-9-8-7	7-9-1-1	23 - 2	XXIII Corps
------------------	-------	---------	---------	--------	-------------

Model now leading static part of North

GL Brandenberger, Erich	1 + 6	9-7-6-6	7-7-1-1	2 - 0	XX Corps

Brandenberger now has no units assigned

Of the two free AI replacements one will be probably be an existing Generalleutnant and one will be a promotion from Generalmajor. Both the new corps leaders will be better than the two we lose. Usually they will be the ones with the best stats and the highest political. No Generalleutenants in the pool have 6.33 or more for ini-adm-inf average. More Generalmajors in the pool now or soon do have more than 6.33 or more for ini-adm-inf than we want for corps command. AI promotion will mean they are in corps command sooner for no points at the risk of some losing ratings.

The free AI appointments one will be an existing General or rank above or will be a promotion from Generalleutnant. Usually they will be the ones with the best stats and the highest political. No General or rank above in the pool has 7 or more for morale. More Generalleutenants in the pool now or in future do have more than 7 morale than we want for army command. AI promotion will mean they are in army command sooner for no points at the risk of some losing ratings.

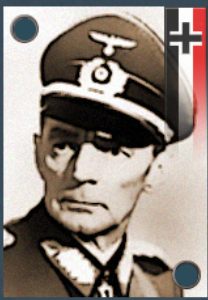

Corps commanders will now take 10 points less to replace - this is more than the 5 points it took to appoint a new army leader!!!

Option 3: .. then replace corps leaders with best from pool: 16 Points

Option 4: .. then replace corps leaders with corps leaders with 9 political: 10 Pts

Other options

There are no Generals or rank above with our aimed for ratings for army commanders nor any with political 9. Manually promoting leaders has not been considered as costs too many points.
