

Preface

This is the first part of what could (time permitting) grow into a substantial guide to the German Wehrmacht in the second world war. It covers the infantry divisions raised by Germany during the war. I hope to go on to cover the motorized and armoured units , as well as SS and Luftwaffe units in later parts.

Notes on unit composition

I have not followed or consulted any previous TOAW III designs when putting this document together. Therefore the squads, etc. that I recommend here are not part of a tried and tested formula. They represent my interpretation of how to represent what I see in historical sources in the game.

Firstly, I use heavy rifle squads to represent heavy machine-gun units. I have assigned one such squad for each heavy machine-gun historically present. I am of the opinion that the in-game heavy machine-guns give an unfair advantage when fighting armour, since in the German army the standard heavy machine-gun was 7.92mm calibre, and therefore not particularly effective against armour. I also believe that weapons like the MG34 and 42 were crew-served, but essentially used as a part of the parent unit, i.e. these weapons, even if they were assigned to a separate heavy weapons company, would be spread out among the other companies according to where they could do the most good. For that reason I can live with any extra manpower resulting from the choice of a rifle squad, rather than a crew.

For normal squads, I have used, er, normal rifle squads. Many designers use heavy rifle squads to represent the German tactical prowess during the early stages of the war. I would like to see other factors used to simulate this advantage. As I have yet to design a scenario of my own, it remains to be seen whether or not my ideas about this will work out. Either way, you have been warned.

I have chosen to include anti-tank rifles. Most units up to 1941 and sometimes beyond had these included in their TO&E. They may not have been very effective against tanks, but they could certainly knock an armoured car out, and perhaps even achieve a mobility kill against a tank. Another reason to include them is that the standard anti-tank gun was the 37mm PAK, which was equally ineffective against modern tanks! With both types of weapon included, the German infantry has some anti-tank capability. Is it too much?

Time and testing will tell!

The light rifle squads represent soldiers part of the artillerie-Regiment etc., who have been detailed as protection for the guns.

I have not made use of the SMG squads. In my research I have concluded that many units from the start of the war to the end included some SMGs, but so far I have not come across a unit actually equipped mostly with SMGs. Very late in the war some squads were equipped with a german assault rifle, the StG44. I believe most squads were never thus equipped, but nevertheless I have represented these squads as additional assault squads.

Finally, I have stated what kind of transport was available at the division level, when I have a source for the historical numbers. When I don't I have simply omitted it. Likewise, at the regimental level I have not included any transport at all. I am aware that most designers simply add enough transport to make the unit go as fast as they see fit. Therefore, I leave you to make up your own mind about how much transport is needed!

A note on sources

I have used Tessins magisterial, if ageing work as my standard. If Tessin says it's so that's the way it is. For details of the TO&E I have used lexicon der wehrmacht, an excellent site. The divisional plaques are from the axis history site, as is much other information.

I Should add

that the German army went through some reorganizations due to losses etc. I have not included any date for when divisions were destroyed or dissolved for other reasons. I have tried to note what happened in case a division number occurs twice in the list though. I have not included any of the divisional groups that were formed from depleted formations temporarily, before incorporating them in new divisions. If you need information on these I recommend www.axishistory.com and www.lexikon-der-wehrmacht.de . If you can't find what you are looking for there, ask in the forum and I'll check with Tessin.

Part two;

Composition of the unit in TOAW III

An infantry division at this time had three regiments, each with three battalions.

Total equipment for 1 regiment:

36 Heavy Rifle Squads
112 Rifle Squads

9 Assault Squads
18 Heavy Mortars (82mm)
27 Light Mortars
12 37mm AT Guns

30 Heavy AT Rifles

4 20mm Flak
6 75mm Infantry Guns
2 150mm Infantry Guns

It also had 1 artillery regiment, plus a heavy artillery battalion.

1 Heavy Battalion with:
12 s.F.H 18 (150mm)
6 Light Rifle Squads
1 Regiment with 3x:
12 l.F.H 18 (105mm)
6 Light Rifle Squads

Next, the Recon Battalion:

3 SdKfz 221
2 75mm Guns
9 Bicycle Squads
9 Cavalry Squads.

Then the divisional AT:

36 37mm AT Guns
18 Light Rifle Squads

And the Pioneers:

18 Engineer Squads

Finally there was the replacement or training battalion, if you want to include it.

36 Rifle Squads
3 Light Mortars

The whole division then, looks like this:

108 Heavy Rifle Squads
372 Rifle Squads (including the training battalion)
18 Engineer Squads
27 Assault Squads
9 Bicycle Squads
9 Cavalry Squads.
42 Light Rifle Squads
54 Heavy Mortars
84 Light Mortars (Including 3 from the training battalion)
74 37mm Anti-Tank Guns
90 Heavy AT Rifles
12 20mm Anti-Aircraft Guns
20 75mm Guns
6 150mm Guns
36 105mm Howitzers
12 150mm Howitzers
3 SdKfz 221

The division also had transport. Historically, it had:

919 Horse Teams
394 Jeeps
921 Trucks

As a final note, at the start of the war these divisions included 78% active service personnel, and only 22% reservists.

Please note that the equipment of each division varied over time, and few, if any, ever had all of the equipment listed above. The type of armoured cars and AT guns would change over time as new models became available. However, this TO&E was the standard which future divisions were expected to reach when they were mobilized in later waves. As we will see, most of them did not meet the standard.

Infanteriedivision (2. Welle)

Part one;

The Divisions and their component parts.

These regiments were mobilized in 1939, as reserve units. Since they were pre-war units, they had the same TO&E as the 1st welle, with some differences. They were:

52. Infanteriedivision 	163. Infanterie-Regiment 181. Infanterie-Regiment 205. Infanterie-Regiment	152. Artillerie-Regiment (Other units 152.)
56. Infanteriedivision 	171. Infanterie-Regiment 192. Infanterie-Regiment 234. Infanterie-Regiment	156. Artillerie-Regiment (Other units 156.)

Infanteriedivision (3. Welle)

Part one;

The Divisions and their component parts.

These were formed as Landwehr regiments. They received older but sometimes plentiful equipment.
They were mobilized in September 1939. They were:

206. Infanteriedivision 	301. Infanterie-Regiment 312. Infanterie-Regiment 413. Infanterie-Regiment	206. Artillerie-Regiment (Other units 206.)

Composition of the unit in TOAW III

An infantry division at this time had three regiments, each with three battalions.

Total equipment for 1 regiment:
Some Divisions: 36 Heavy Rifle Squads

144 Rifle Squads

9 Assault

12 37mm AT Guns

30 Heavy AT Rifles

8 75mm Infantry Guns

It also had 1 artillery regiment.

1 Heavy Battalion with:

12 s.F.H 18 (150mm)

6 Light Rifle Squads

3 Battallions with:

12 l.F.H 16 (105mm)

6 Light Rifle Squads

Next, the Recon Battalion:

3 37mm Anti-Tank Guns

2 75mm Guns

20 Bicycle Squads

Then the divisional AT:

36 37mm AT Guns

18 Light Rifle Squads

And the Pioneers:

27 Assault / Engineer Squads

Finally there was the replacement or training battalion, if you want to include it.

36 Rifle Squads

The whole division then, looks like this:

Some Divisions: 108 Heavy Rifle Squads

468 Rifle Squads (including the training battalion)

27 Engineer Squads

27 Assault Squads

20 Bicycle Squads

30 Light Rifle Squads

74 37mm Anti-Tank Guns

90 Heavy AT Rifles

24 75mm Guns

36 105mm Howitzers

12 150mm Howitzers

The division also had transport. Historically, it had:

1529 Horse Teams

330 Jeeps

663 Trucks

As a final note, at the start of the war these divisions were 100% reservists.

Please note that the equipment of each division varied over time, and few, if any, ever had all of the equipment listed above. The type of armoured cars and AT guns would change over time as new models became available.

Infanteriedivision (13. Welle)

Part one;

The Divisions and their component parts.

Formed in October 1940, partially with captured French weapons, ready for service in February 1941. Intended as static divisions for occupation duties in France. Most were upgraded to field readiness in November 1941. 305, 320 and 321 Divisions were upgraded in December. The exception being 319 Division, which stayed in the Channel Islands for the duration of the war.

The Divisions and their component parts.

These divisions completed their forming process 31st December 1941. Amazingly they were ready to march just 14 days after the mobilization order had been signed. For the most part they went to Heeres Gruppe Mitte. They were raised as weak divisions (that TO&E is shown below), but by spring 1943 they were equipped according to the standard TO&E.

328. Infanteriedivision 	547. Infanterie-Regiment 548. Infanterie-Regiment 549. Infanterie-Regiment	238. Artillerie-Regiment (Other units 238.)
329. Infanteriedivision 	551. Infanterie-Regiment 552. Infanterie-Regiment 553. Infanterie-Regiment	329. Artillerie-Regiment (Other units 329.)
330. Infanteriedivision	554. Infanterie-Regiment 555. Infanterie-Regiment 556. Infanterie-Regiment	330. Artillerie-Regiment (Other units 330.)
331. Infanteriedivision	557. Infanterie-Regiment 558. Infanterie-Regiment 559. Infanterie-Regiment	331. Artillerie-Regiment (Other units 331.)

Composition of the unit in TOAW III

(NOTE: This TO&E is valid for these divisions until fall 1942 – spring 1943, when they were re-equipped as standard divisions.)

An infantry division at this time had three regiments, each with two battalions.

Total equipment for 1 regiment:

24 Heavy Rifle Squads

75 Rifle Squads

6 Assault Squads

12 Heavy Mortars (82mm)

18 Light Mortars

12 37mm AT Guns

20 Heavy AT Rifles

4 20mm Flak

It also had 1 artillery regiment, including a heavy artillery battalion.

1 Heavy Battalion with:

12 s.F.H 18 (150mm)

6 Light Rifle Squads

Three light battalions, each with:

12 l.F.H 18 (105mm)

6 Light Rifle Squads

Next, the Recon Battalion:

3 SdKfz 221

2 75mm Guns

9 Bicycle Squads

9 Cavalry Squads.

Then the divisional AT:

36 37mm AT Guns

18 Light Rifle Squads

And the Pioneers:

18 Engineer Squads

Finally there was the replacement or training battalion, if you want to include it.

36 Rifle Squads

3 Light Mortars

The whole division then, looks like this:

72 Heavy Rifle Squads
261 Rifle Squads (including the training battalion)
18 Engineer Squads
18 Assault Squads
9 Bicycle Squads
9 Cavalry Squads.

Composition of the unit in TOAW III

An infantry division at this time had two regiments, each with three battalions.

Total equipment for 1 regiment:

36 Heavy Rifle Squads

108 Rifle Squads

9 Cavalry Squads

9 Assault Squads

26 Heavy Mortars (82mm)

9 Light Mortars

12 37mm AT Guns

4 47mm Russian AT Guns

4 Light Rifle Squads

It also had 1 artillery regiment, including a heavy artillery battalion.

1 Heavy Battalion with:

9 s.F.H 18 (150mm)

2 Light Rifle Squads

2 Battalions with :

12 l.F.H 18 (105mm)

4 Light Rifle Squads

Next, the Recon Battalion:

12 Rifle Squads

12 Trucks

9 Assault Squads

2 37mm Guns

2 75mm Guns

4 HMG (carried by the Bicycle Squads)

24 Bicycle Squads

And the Anti-Tank unit:

24 Light Infantry At Squads (No source for equipment for this unit, so this is a compromise)

24 Trucks

And the Pioneers:

27 Engineer Squads

6 120mm Mortars

The whole division then, looks like this:

72 Heavy Rifle Squads
216 Rifle Squads
27 Engineer Squads
18 Assault Squads
24 Bicycle Squads
9 Cavalry Squads.
14 Light Rifle Squads
52 Heavy Mortars
18 Light Mortars (Including 3 from the training battalion)
6 120mm Mortars
26 37mm Anti-Tank Guns
8 47mm Russian AT Guns
2 75mm Guns
24 105mm Howitzers
9 150mm Howitzers

The division also had transport. No source for exact numbers.

Please note that the equipment of each division varied over time, and few, if any, ever had all of the equipment listed above. The type of armoured cars and AT guns would change over time as new models became available.

Infanteriedivision (no Welle)

Part one;

The Divisions and their component parts.

These divisions were raised in May-July 1943.

282. Infanteriedivision 	848. Grenadier-Regiment 849. Grenadier-Regiment 850. Grenadier-Regiment	282. Artillerie-Regiment (Other units 282.)
355. Infanteriedivision	866. Grenadier-Regiment 867. Grenadier-Regiment 868. Grenadier-Regiment	355. Artillerie-Regiment (Other units 355.)
356. Infanteriedivision 	869. Grenadier-Regiment 870. Grenadier-Regiment 871. Grenadier-Regiment	356. Artillerie-Regiment (Other units 356.)

(Please note that at around this time the Aufklarungs units were renamed Fussilier)

I have exact TO&E data for the 282nd, but no details for the other two. Therefore the details below are split in two. The first part gives the TO&E for the 282nd, and the second part for the other two divisions.

The TO&E for the second part is somewhat speculative, as I have only been able to confirm that the divisions had different TO&Es. To keep my sanity I have simply given them the same equipment as the 19th Welle, which to me seems the closest equivalent.

Part two A 282 Infanteriedivision;

Composition of the unit in TOAW III

An infantry division at this time had three regiments, each with three battalions.

Total equipment for 1 regiment:

36 Heavy Rifle Squads
112 Rifle Squads
9 Assault Squads
18 Heavy Mortars (82mm)
27 Light Mortars
29 20mm AT Rifles
6 75mm Infantry Guns

It also had 1 artillery regiment, including a heavy artillery battalion.

1 Heavy Battalion with:
12 s.F.H 18 (150mm)
6 Light Rifle Squads

1 Light Battalion with:
12 l.F.H 18 (105mm)
6 Light Rifle Squads

1 Light Battalion with:
8 l.F.H 18 (105mm)
4 l.F.H 16(105mm)
6 Light Rifle Squads

1 Mixed Battalion with:
8 schwere Feldhaubitzen 414 (f) (155mm)
4 Kanonen K 331 (f) (105mm)
6 Light Rifle Squads

Then the divisional AT:
18 50mm AT Guns
9 75mm AT Guns
18 Light Rifle Squads

And the Pioneers:
18 Engineer Squads

The Aufklarungs unit was replaced with a Fussilier battalion:

12 Heavy Rifle Squads

28 Rifle Squads

3 Assault Squads

6 Heavy Mortars

9 Light Mortars

2 75mm Infantry Guns

9 Bicycle Squads

Plus the attached Sturmgeschütz-Abteilung 905 with:

22 Sturmhaubitzen (These seem to be StuG III 75/48)

8 schwere Feldhaubitzen 414 (f) (155mm)

4 Kanonen K 331 (f) (105mm)

6 Light Rifle Squads

Finally there was the replacement or training battalion, if you want to include it.

36 Rifle Squads

3 Light Mortars

The whole division then, looks like this:

120 Heavy Rifle Squads
400 Rifle Squads (including the training battalion)
18 Engineer Squads
30 Assault Squads
9 Bicycle Squads
42 Light Rifle Squads
60 Heavy Mortars
93 Light Mortars (Including 3 from the training battalion)
18 50mm AT Guns
9 75mm AT Guns
87 20mm AT Rifles
18 75mm Guns
(For the break down of types of artillery, see above)
36 105mm Howitzers
12 150mm Howitzers
22 StuG III

The division also had transport. No source for exact numbers.

Please note that the equipment of each division varied over time, and few, if any, ever had all of the equipment listed above.

Infanteriedivision (no Welle)

Part one;

The Divisions and their component parts.

This is going to be a bit complicated. Firstly, 704, 714, 717 and 718 Divisions from the 15th Welle were re-designated as Jaeger Divisions. They were numbered 104, 114, 117, and 118 respectively. Their Regiments kept their numbers but were now Jaeger Regimenter.

14th and 36th Infanterie Division (Mot.) were turned back into plain Infanterie divisions, as shown below.

The 392nd Division was formed in September 1943.

During the same year the 950th Infanterie-Regiment was formed from Indian recruits.

The 162nd Division which had been dissolved after heavy losses in the Moscow Campaign was reformed as a Turkestanische Division, using POW s.

Part two;

Composition of the unit in TOAW III

(Note: Starting in 1943 the Panzerfaust was produced and issued. This justifies giving AT versions of all rifle squads.)

The new divisions had three regiments. Each with:

6 Assault-AT Squads

3 Bicycle Squads

96 Rifle-AT Squads

12 81mm Mortars

24 Heavy Rifle-AT Squads

8 120mm Mortars

2 150mm Infantry Guns

6 75mm Infantry Guns

4 75mm AT Guns

8 50mm AT Guns

Fusilier Battalion, with:

16 Motorcycle Squads

32 Rifle-AT Squads

6 81mm Mortars

12 Heavy Rifle-AT Squads

4 120mm Mortars

Divisional AT Unit:

9-12 75mm AT Guns

10 StuG (these were NOT issued to all divisions. Some divisions got PAK guns instead, others got various models of self-propelled AT vehicles.)

9 3.7cm Flak Guns

Artillerie-Regiment:

3 light battalions, totally

48 10,5 cm leFH

24 Light Rifle-AT Squads

1 heavy battalion with;

16 15 cm sFH

8 Light Rifle-AT Squads

Pionierbataillon :

48 Engineer Squads (most divisions only ever got 32)

Feldersatzbataillon

64 – 80 Rifle-AT Squads

The whole division then, looks like this:

(Assuming full strength of everything as per the theoretical gliederung.)

18 Assault Squads

9 Bicycle Squads

368 Rifle-AT Squads (including Feldersatzbataillon)

36 81mm Mortars

72 Heavy Rifle-AT Squads

16 120mm Mortars

6 150mm Infantry Guns

18 75mm Infantry Guns

24 75mm AT Guns

24 50mm AT Guns

16 Motorcycle Squads

32 Light Rifle-AT Squads

10 StuG

9 3.7cm Flak Guns

48 10,5 cm leFH

16 15 cm sFH

48 Engineer Squads

The full strength of a division was 10.708 Germans and 2.005 Hilfswilligen.

The division also had transport. No source for exact numbers.

Please note that the equipment of each division varied over time, and few, if any, ever had all of the equipment listed above. The type of armoured cars and AT guns would change over time as new models became available. However, this TO&E was the standard which future divisions were expected to reach when they were mobilized in later waves. As we will see, most of them did not meet the standard.

(Note: Starting in 1943 the Panzerfaust was produced and issued. This justifies giving AT versions of all rifle squads.)

The new divisions had three regiments. Each with:

- 6 Assault-AT Squads
- 3 Bicycle Squads
- 96 Rifle-AT Squads
- 12 81mm Mortars
- 24 Heavy Rifle-AT Squads
- 8 120mm Mortars
- 2 150mm Infantry Guns
- 6 75mm Infantry Guns
- 4 75mm AT Guns
- 8 50mm AT Guns

Fusilier Battalion, with:

- 16 Motorcycle Squads
- 32 Rifle-AT Squads
- 6 81mm Mortars
- 12 Heavy Rifle-AT Squads
- 4 120mm Mortars

Divisional AT Unit:

- 9-12 75mm AT Guns

10 StuG (these were NOT issued to all divisions. Some divisions got PAK guns instead, others got various models of self-propelled AT vehicles.)

9 3.7cm Flak Guns

Artillerie-Regiment:

3 light battalions, totally

48 10,5 cm leFH

24 Light Rifle-AT Squads

1 heavy battalion with;

16 15 cm sFH

8 Light Rifle-AT Squads

Pionierbataillon :

48 Engineer Squads (most divisions only ever got 32)

Feldersatzbataillon

64 – 80 Rifle-AT Squads

The whole division then, looks like this:

(Assuming full strength of everything as per the theoretical gliederung.)

18 Assault Squads

9 Bicycle Squads

Infanteriedivision (24th Welle)

Part one;

The Divisions and their component parts.

These divisions were raised from reserve divisions in the beginning of 1944. They were called “Schatten” divisions, because they had the TO&E of a decimated standard division. They had no supply units at all attached. As none of these divisions went on to become new units, but were used to reinforce or re-create destroyed divisions, I will not give a full TO&E. For an idea of what the divisions would have looked like before being broken up, see below, 26 Welle.

* The division was strengthened by the attachment of Fallschirmjäger-Regiment 6 and Panzer-Ersatz- und Ausbildungs-Abteilung 100.

§ 92. Infanterie-Division was absorbed into 362. Infanterie-Division June 1944.

Part two;

Composition of the unit in TOAW III

(Note: Starting in 1943 the Panzerfaust was produced and issued. This justifies giving AT versions of all rifle squads.)

These divisions had two regiments, each with:

3 Assault-AT Squads

3 Bicycle Squads

123 Rifle-AT Squads

4 81mm Mortars

3 50mm AT Guns (The sources do not state what caliber, but it usually states “heavy” when 75mm guns are concerned. Here it doesn't, so i've given 50mm guns.)

36 AT+ Teams (to represent the Panzerschrecks assigned)

2 150mm Infantry Guns

6 75mm Infantry Guns

Fusilier Battalion

19 Rifle-AT Squads

4 81mm Mortars

Divisional AT company

12 75mm AT Guns

6 Light Rifle Squads (no at here – why would they have panzerfausts when they have the guns?)

Artillery regiment with:

2 light battalions, each with

18 LeFH

9 Light Rifle-AT Squads

1 heavy battalion with:

(NOTE: in 89th and 91st divisions this battallion had 88mm Flak or AT guns instead.)

16 SFH

8 Light Rifle-AT Squads

Pioneer battalion
48 Engineer Squads

Feldersatz battalion
80 Rifle AT Squads

The whole division, then, looks like this:

6 Assault-AT Squads
6 Bicycle Squads
345 Rifle-AT Squads (including ersatz battalion)
12 81mm Mortars
6 50mm AT Guns
72 AT+ Teams
4 150mm Infantry Guns
12 75mm Infantry Guns
12 75mm AT Guns
6 Light Rifle Squads
36 LeFH
16 SFH
17 Light Rifle-AT Squads
48 Engineer Squads

The division also had transport. No source for exact numbers.

Please note that the equipment of each division varied over time, and few, if any, ever had all of the equipment listed above. The type of armoured cars and AT guns would change over time as new models became available. However, this TO&E was the standard which future divisions were expected to reach when they were mobilized in later waves. As we will see, most of them did not meet the standard.

Infanteriedivision (29th Welle)

Part one;

The Divisions and their component parts.

These divisions were raised in July '44. Most changed names at least once before being sent to the front. I give the final names here. Along with the name changes went changes in TO&E. I give the final version here as well. These divisions were raised with new recruits, as completely new formations, although some of them (78. Volks-Sturm-Division, 45. Volks-Grenadier-Division, 31. Volks-Grenadier-Division, 6. Volks-Grenadier-Division) received the numbers of old divisions previously destroyed.

The recruits received less than a months training before being sent to the front!

Part two;

Composition of the unit in TOAW III

Each division had 3 regiments, each with:

3 Assault-AT Squads

3 Bicycle Squads

48 Rifle-AT Squads

28 Heavy Rifle-AT Squads (16 with HMG, 12 with assault rifles)

12 81mm Mortars

12 75mm Infantry Guns

8 120mm Mortars

72 AT+ Teams (panzerschreck)

Fusilier Company

7 Rifle-AT Squads

2 Heavy Rifle-AT Squads (assault rifles)

(Theses were all bicycle troops)

Divisional AT battalion

9 75mm AT Guns

14 StuG

9 37mm AA Guns

(the equipment of the AT units varied wildly from division to division depending on available material.)

Artillery regiment

1 light battalion with

24 75mm Infantry Guns OR 75mm AT Guns

12 Light Rifle-AT Squads

2 light battalions with

18 10,5 cm leFH

9 Light Rifle-AT Squads

1 heavy battalion with
18 15 cm sFH
9 Light Rifle-AT Squads

Pioneer battalion
18 Engineer Squads

Feldersatz bataillon
64-80 Rifle-AT Squads

The whole division:
9 Assault-AT Squads
9 Bicycle Squads
231 Rifle-AT Squads (Including Feldersatz)
86 Heavy Rifle-AT Squads
36 81mm Mortars
36 75mm Infantry Guns
216 AT+ Teams
9 75mm AT Guns
14 StuG
9 37mm AA Guns
24 75mm Infantry Guns OR 75mm AT Guns
30 Light Rifle-AT Squads
18 10,5 cm leFH
18 15 cm sFH
18 Engineer Squads

The division also had transport. No source for exact numbers.

Please note that the equipment of each division varied over time, and few, if any, ever had all of the equipment listed above. The type of armoured cars and AT guns would change over time as new models became available.

Infanteriedivision (30th Welle)

Part one;

The Divisions and their component parts.

The first four divisions were re-creations of old divisions decimated in combat. The last two were brand new. They were all raised in August 1944. I give the TO&E as standard n.A, but feel free to be creative, as the TO&E varied wildly from division to division.

12. Volks-Grenadier-Division	27. Grenadier-Regiment 48. Grenadier-Regiment 89. Grenadier-Regiment	12. Artillerie-Regiment (Other units 12.)
16. Volks-Grenadier-Division	21. Grenadier-Regiment 223. Grenadier-Regiment 225. Grenadier-Regiment	1316. Artillerie-Regiment (Other units 1316, except 16. fusilier company.)
19. Volks-Grenadier-Division 	59. Grenadier-Regiment 73. Grenadier-Regiment 74. Grenadier-Regiment	719. Artillerie-Regiment (Other units 119, except 19. fusilier company.)
36. Volks-Grenadier-Division 	87. Grenadier-Regiment 118. Grenadier-Regiment 165. Grenadier-Regiment	268. Artillerie-Regiment (Other units 36.)
560. Volks-Grenadier-Division 	1128. Grenadier-Regiment 1129. Grenadier-Regiment 1130. Grenadier-Regiment	1560. Artillerie-Regiment (Other units 1560.)
563. Volks-Grenadier-Division	1147. Grenadier-Regiment 1148. Grenadier-Regiment 1149. Grenadier-Regiment	1563. Artillerie-Regiment (Other units 1563.)

Part two;

Composition of the unit in TOAW III

(Note: Starting in 1943 the Panzerfaust was produced and issued. This justifies giving AT versions of all rifle squads.)

The new divisions had three regiments. Each with:

- 6 Assault-AT Squads
- 3 Bicycle Squads
- 96 Rifle-AT Squads
- 12 81mm Mortars
- 24 Heavy Rifle-AT Squads
- 8 120mm Mortars
- 2 150mm Infantry Guns
- 6 75mm Infantry Guns
- 4 75mm AT Guns
- 8 50mm AT Guns

Fusilier Battalion, with:

- 16 Motorcycle Squads
- 32 Rifle-AT Squads
- 6 81mm Mortars
- 12 Heavy Rifle-AT Squads
- 4 120mm Mortars

Divisional AT Unit:

- 9-12 75mm AT Guns

10 StuG (these were NOT issued to all divisions. Some divisions got PAK guns instead, others got various models of self-propelled AT vehicles.)

- 9 3.7cm Flak Guns

Artillerie-Regiment:

- 3 light battalions, totally
- 48 10,5 cm leFH
- 24 Light Rifle-AT Squads

1 heavy battalion with;
16 15 cm sFH
8 Light Rifle-AT Squads

Pionierbataillon :
48 Engineer Squads (most divisions only ever got 32)

Feldersatzbataillon
64 – 80 Rifle-AT Squads

The whole division then, looks like this:

(Assuming full strength of everything as per the theoretical gliederung.)

18 Assault Squads

9 Bicycle Squads

368 Rifle-AT Squads (including Feldersatzbataillon)

36 81mm Mortars

72 Heavy Rifle-AT Squads

16 120mm Mortars

6 150mm Infantry Guns

18 75mm Infantry Guns

24 75mm AT Guns

24 50mm AT Guns

16 Motorcycle Squads

32 Light Rifle-AT Squads

10 StuG

9 3.7cm Flak Guns

48 10,5 cm leFH

16 15 cm sFH

48 Engineer Squads

The full strength of a division was 10.708 Germans and 2.005 Hilfswilligen.

The division also had transport. No source for exact numbers.

Please note that the equipment of each division varied over time, and few, if any, ever had all of the equipment listed above. The type of armoured cars and AT guns would change over time as new models became available.

Infanteriedivision (31th Welle)

Part one;

The Divisions and their component parts.

These divisions were raised in August 1944. They were Schatten divisions to start out with, and were then re-numbered as infanteriedivisionen or VGD. At around the same time their TO&E was updated to match that of the 32nd welle. I give them here with their final designations and TO&E, as they were never committed to battle in any other guise. They were all replacements for destroyed divisions, except 564. Volks-Grenadier-Division. Some divisions will appear under the next welle as well, as they didn't finish forming until then, and were recorded as that welle instead.

Infanteriedivision (32nd Welle)

Part one;

The Divisions and their component parts.

The 32nd welle had two parts. The first consisted of 15 divisions created from partially raised divisions. Hence some of the division numbers were new, but the regiments were named after previously destroyed units.

183. Volks-Grenadier-Division	From 564, which alone in this column, saw action for about a month before being redesignated!
246. Volks-Grenadier-Division	From 565. Volks-Grenadier-Division
363. Volks-Grenadier-Division	From 566. Volks-Grenadier-Division
349. Volks-Grenadier-Division	From 567. Volks-Grenadier-Division
256. Volks-Grenadier-Division	From 568. Volks-Grenadier-Division
361. Volks-Grenadier-Division	From 569. Volks-Grenadier-Division
337. Volks-Grenadier-Division	From 570. Volks-Grenadier-Division
18. Volks-Grenadier-Division	From 571. Volks-Grenadier-Division
340. Volks-Grenadier-Division	From 572. Volks-Grenadier-Division
708. Volks-Grenadier-Division	From 573. Volks-Grenadier-Division
277. Volks-Grenadier-Division	From 574. Volks-Grenadier-Division
271. Volks-Grenadier-Division	From 576. Volks-Grenadier-Division
47. Volks-Grenadier-Division	From 577. Volks-Grenadier-Division
212. Volks-Grenadier-Division	From 578. Volks-Grenadier-Division
326. Volks-Grenadier-Division	From 579. Volks-Grenadier-Division

The second part consisted of the following divisions, all re-created older formations.

62. Volks-Grenadier-Division	From 583. Volks-Grenadier-Division
9. Volks-Grenadier-Division	From 584. Volks-Grenadier-Division
167. Volks-Grenadier-Division	From 585. Volks-Grenadier-Division
79. Volks-Grenadier-Division	From 586. Volks-Grenadier-Division
257. Volks-Grenadier-Division	From 587. Volks-Grenadier-Division
320. Volks-Grenadier-Division	From 588. Volks-Grenadier-Division

183. Volks-Grenadier-Division	330. Grenadier-Regiment 343. Grenadier-Regiment 351. Grenadier-Regiment	219. Artillerie-Regiment (Other units 219.)

Infanteriedivision (33rd Welle)

Part one;

The Divisions and their component parts.

These divisions were raised in January '45. The men came from reserve divisions. They had a new TO&E. I give the theoretical TO&E below, but by this stage of the war practically no units ever got all they were supposed to get. Often they would get completely different equipment, because that was all that was available. Starting in December '44 all divisions were supposed to upgrade to this TO&E, with the exception of 1. Infanterie-Division, and six divisions stationed in Norway. Any units that did start upgrading were only partially upgraded by the end of the war.

*553. Volksgrenadier-Division was formed Oct 1944 from 553. Grenadier-Division and was destroyed in Lorraine a few days later.

It was reformed the same month and destroyed again in November. It spent the coming month reforming and in Jan 1945 it returned to the front, ending the war in US captivity near Württemberg.
