Individuals, Organisations, and Discussion Groups

Many people (too many to mention all of them) helped with the research for this game. As well as our ever-intrepid beta testers, some (but not, unfortunately, all) of those who did so are listed below. They are not mentioned in any particular order and I sincerely apologise to those whom I have inadvertently missed out.

John Moher, Dimitris Christodoulou, and Bob Mackenzie from The Defence of Greece 1940-41 discussion group at <http://groups.yahoo.com/group/greece1940/>. Oberst a.D. (Bundeswehr) Steffen L. Rhode of the Bund der Deutscher Fallschirmjäger passed questions and answers between myself and some of the surviving German veterans of the drop on Crete. Brad Maneera of the Australian War Memorial also assisted with aspects of the Australian experience on Crete. Useful information about the Italian forces was also forthcoming from the Italianisti - Military History Discussion Group at <http://groups.yahoo.com/group/italianisti/>. Other researchers at Feldgrau.net (<http://www.feldgrau.net/>), the Axis History Forum (<http://forum.axishistory.com/>), and Lexikon der Wehrmacht (<http://forum-der-wehrmacht.de/>) also gave generously of their time and expertise. Contributors at both the British Empire Commonwealth Forces email list (<http://lists.topica.com/lists/Emp-Comm-Forces/>) and the Britregiments discussion group (<http://groups.yahoo.com/group/britregiments/>) assisted as well. Assistance was also provided by the Australian Army History Section, and Robert Carpenter of the Australian Defence Simulation Office. Jeff Leser of the United States Army Command and General Staff College, Fort Leavenworth also provided research assistance.
